

ABSTRACT

One embodiment of the present invention provides a lead electrode assembly for subcutaneous implantation including an electrode; and a pocket coupled to the electrode for positioning the lead electrode assembly.